A wide-angle photograph of a large event hall, likely a tent or a large hall, set up for a formal event. The ceiling is covered in a white, draped fabric and is illuminated by numerous warm white string lights that create a festive atmosphere. Several large, bright, spherical pendant lights hang from the ceiling. The floor is covered with dark, round tables, each set with white tablecloths, glassware, and plates. In the background, a stage area is visible, featuring three large blue screens displaying the 'C&A' logo. The walls are also decorated with string lights, and the overall lighting is warm and inviting.
